

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Funding Highlights:

- Provides significant increases to address the National Security and Intelligence challenges confronting the FBI and other Department of Justice components.
- Begins funding 50,000 additional police officers through the Community Oriented Policing Services program.
- Provides funding to combat financial fraud and protect the public interest.
- Reinvigorates Federal Civil Rights Enforcement.
- Provides the enforcement, confinement and prosecutorial resources necessary to help ensure the Nation's borders are secure.
- Addresses Federal detention and incarceration programs and ensures that returning Federal prisoners have the support needed to successfully reintegrate into communities.

The President's Budget for the Department of Justice (DOJ) is $26.5 billion. The Budget addresses the key priorities of the President and the Attorney General, including those for National Security and crime fighting programs in the FBI and other DOJ components, to include resources for combating financial fraud and protecting the public interest. The Budget funds the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) hiring program, ensures that prison and detention programs are adequately funded, to include prisoner reentry programs, reinvigorates Federal civil rights enforcement, and increases border security.

Counters the Threat of Terrorism and Strengthens National Security. The Budget provides $8 billion for the FBI, including $425 million in enhancements, and $88 million for the National Security Division to address the President's highest priority to protect the American people from terrorist acts. Funding supports the detection and disruption of terrorists, counterintelligence, cyber security, and other threats against our National Security.

Provides Funding to Begin to Put 50,000 More Cops on the Beat. Expanding COPS Hiring Grants, the Budget includes funding to begin hiring 50,000 additional police officers. Supporting the hiring of police nationwide will help States and communities prevent the growth of crime during the economic downturn.

Combats Financial Fraud. The Budget provides resources for additional FBI agents to investigate mortgage fraud and white collar crime and for additional Federal prosecutors, civil litigators and bankruptcy attorneys to protect investors, the market, the Federal Government's investment of resources in the financial crisis, and the American public.

Reinvigorates Federal Civil Rights Enforcement. The Budget includes $145 million for the Civil Rights Division to strengthen civil rights enforcement against racial, ethnic, sexual preference, religious and gender discrimination.

Strengthens Immigration Enforcement and Border Security. The Budget includes additional funding for a comprehensive approach to enforcement along the Nation's borders that combines law enforcement and prosecutorial component efforts to investigate, arrest, detain, and prosecute illegal immigrants and other criminals. The initiative also enhances the Department's ability to track fugitives from justice and combat gunrunners and illegal drug traffickers.

Supports Federal Detention and Incarceration Programs. The Budget provides $6 billion for the Bureau of Prisons and $1.4 billion for the Office of the Detention Trustee to ensure that sentenced criminals and detainees are housed in facilities that are safe, humane, cost-efficient, and appropriately secure.

Expands Prisoner Reentry Programs. The Budget includes $109 million for prisoner reentry programs, including an additional $75 million for the Office of Justice Programs to expand grant programs authorized by the Second Chance Act that provide counseling, job training, drug treatment, and other transitional assistance to former prisoners.