LOYALISTS KNEW REvolt Was Near And Names Of Leaders, But "PURGE" Came Too Late

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON, Aug. 30 — Our official and contradictory belief of reports about a civil war in Spain which is leaving thousands of dead and thousands more in jail, has two big factorial facts stand out:

Matt, that the plotters against the government had a regular time table for the beginning of their revolt; and that it was broken a week earlier than expected due to the assassination of Jeronimo Garcia Bernal, one of the Monarchist plotters.

Secondly, that the rebels had the disappointment of their lives when the main body of the Civil Guard, the air force, and the navy stood by the government.

The Popular Front government of Spain, ever since its big victory at the polls some months ago, has been apprehensive of just such a rebellion. Some official of the Socialist leadership.

He is already at loggerheads with Franco Mola who has formed a Burgos provisional government which has taken control of Franco.

Lurking in the background but not yet in the front since these days usually remember to take rifles and revolt along. In the war between government forces and rebels, women have taken active fighting roles. This loyalist girl, carrying an automatic rifle, is pictured in Barcelona, scene of recent battles.
